

Est. 2010

DIRECTORS CLUB

To endeavour. To achieve

Leadership Dinner & Debate

DEBATE

Customer Service 5-Year Plan

Does Automation And AI Mean The End Of People-Based Customer Service?

WHEN & WHERE

Thursday, September 28th 6.30pm – 9.30pm

The Foyer Private Dining Room

Claridge's Hotel, London

WHO

Senior Stakeholders In The Customer Journey

COST

Free Of Charge

R.S.V.P.

Jon Snow

jon.snow@directorsclub.org.uk

INVITATION

You are cordially invited to attend the Directors' Club United Kingdom Leadership Dinner & Debate at Claridge's Hotel, Mayfair, London on Thursday, September 28th from 6.30pm to 9.30pm.

There is no charge; you are invited as our guest.

DEBATE

Customer Service 5-Year Plan

Does Automation And AI Mean The End Of People-Based Customer Service?

Over the past decade, technology has created many alternative channels through which our organisations interact person-to-person with customers; voice, web chat, email, social media, instant messaging, and video are all examples. Decision-making as to which channels to invest in and prioritise is still a live management challenge!

But now a new breed of technologies, many harnessing the power of artificial intelligence, are transforming customer self-service and potentially removing the need for human-to-human interaction.

Over a delicious four-course dinner, our invited guests will address the questions: How important is the human touch in an increasingly digital customer journey? And will the organisations in the future require frontline people? The answer to the latter is probably yes, but the interesting points for debate are: how many and what will be their roles?

VENUE

Set in the surroundings of the grand art deco Foyer, The Foyer Private Dining Room offers a private magical dining experience in the heart of Claridge's.

I hope you can join us.

FORMAT

Our Dinner & Debate evenings are designed to be light, informal and engaging. We aim to deliver opportunities for peer group sharing, learning and networking.

Jon Snow, chairman of the Directors' Club United Kingdom, will host the evening and act as discussion facilitator and moderator.

The Chatham House Rule will be invoked, enabling guests to share experiences and ideas in a confidential and trusted environment.

Our dress code is business (or as glamorous as you like).

R.S.V.P.

If you'd like to accept this invitation, please email your acceptance to:

jon.snow@directorsclub.org.uk

SPONSOR

This Dinner & Debate is supported by Kura.

Kura provides award winning outsourced contact centre services from its four locations across the UK. Their software subsidiary, Inisoft, develops advisor desktop solutions with full omnichannel capabilities, which are sold globally. Kura is in business to help people develop and reach their full potential. They are building a culture that shifts the mind-set from focusing on “things and stuff” to “people and behaviour”; they call this process “crossing the bridge”. Kura's vision is, one day, to be recognised as “unrivalled in developing people”.

To find out more, please visit www.wearekura.com or www.inisoft.com.

Please note: You are under no obligation to engage with our sponsor after the event. Representatives of the sponsor will act as subject-matter experts during the Dinner & Debate.

ABOUT

Today's Directors' Club United Kingdom has its origin as a supper club in London's Mayfair. The Directors' Dining Club, as it was known, had its home at Claridge's Hotel and brought together business leaders of the day to discuss trends and disruptive forces for change.

In February 2010, Jon Snow (founder and chairman) re-constituted the dining club as the Directors' Club and so a business lifestyle and networking institution was born.

The Club motto To endeavour. To achieve captures the spirit of the organisation and the ambitions of its members.

Membership is by invitation.

<http://directorsclub.org.uk>